Long Term Direction and Executive Highlights

We continue to be guided by our Goals and Objectives in our daily operations and our planned efforts as well. We are committed to excellence through effective leadership and strategic planning.

We understand that our operational resources are directly related to the economic status of our county, our state, and our country. Therefore, our limited resources are investments in the best crime prevention methods and energy effective operations that specifically focus on threats identified through crime mapping and intelligence gathering.

Our professionalism and our values will facilitate the public's confidence in the Maui Police Department, and our never-ending pursuit of ridding our community of drugs, violence, school bullying, property crime, traffic deaths and family abuse, will motivate us to make a difference each day in Maui County.

It is our duty to protect our community from catastrophic threats such as active shooter killings and terrorism, which has inflicted predisposed safe communities throughout our nation and similar in character to our own community. Of paramount importance is our investment in crime prevention, especially with a focus on our youth for which many of our at-risk and educational programs are designed for.

We emphasize strict motor vehicle law compliance throughout the year and target speed violators, distracted drivers, and the most dangerous of them all - the Driving Under the Influence driver.

Administrative Services

Greg Takahashi

Greg Takahashi was the Business Administrator for the entire year.

Expenditures for the Department in 2012 totalled $44,561,556. This reflects an increase of $321,451 from 2011 expenditures which were $44,240,105. As in years past, Personnel Services (salaries) was the largest single expenditure. The 2012 total of $32,853,914 attributed to salaries, which reflects 74% of all expenditures for the year. By comparison, 2011 Personnel Services expenditures totalled $33,016,192 or 75% of that year's spending.

As of December 31, 2012, total Department strength was 449. In 2012, 40 personnel were appointed: 24 police officers, 8 emergency services dispatchers, 3 public safety aides, 2 officer operations assistants, 1 administrative assistant, 1 criminalist, and 1 specialized equipment technician. In the same year, 45 personnel separated from service and 5 positions and their incumbents transferred to the Department of Management.

Criminal Intelligence

Lieutenant Wade Anzai was in command of the section effective March 1, 2012. The Unit operates under the direct supervision of the Chief of Police and the Deputy Chief of Police.

Wade Anzai

The Criminal Intelligence Unit is responsible for providing the Office of the Chief of Police with accurate and updated information relative to the organized criminal activities, activist groups who violate laws or pose a threat towards public safety, information pertaining to terrorism, and general criminal activities.

All intelligence advisories and information received is analyzed, with all non-restrictive information being disseminated to the appropriate police elements and other law enforcement counterparts. The advisories and information is utilized to reduce organized criminal activities, enhance officer safety, and keep updated on new trends and technology.

The Criminal Intelligence Unit issued 362 intelligence and officer safety advisories throughout the year. The Unit also documented 278 intelligence reports relative to criminal activities. Criminal activities include organized crime and crime figures, their associates and suspected businesses, the distribution and sales of illegal narcotics by drug trafficking organizations, gambling activities to include cockfighting and prostitution, and weapons violations.

Internal Affairs

Wallace Tom

Captain Wallace Tom was in command of the Internal Affairs Section for the entire year. The section operates under the direct supervision of the Chief of Police and Deputy Chief of Police.

The Internal Affairs Section continues to perform a wide variety of functions within the Department. These include administrative investigations and inquiries, participation in the Department's Drug Testing Program, police officer recruitment testing and processing, required sworn and civilian background checks, and assisting the Records Section with the proper destruction of evidence.

The Internal Affairs Section is also involved in providing assistance to the Corporation Counsel relative to civil lawsuits and related matters as well as responding to subpoenas for release of administrative investigation records.

In 2012, 57 formal investigations and 5 inquiries were conducted department wide. Internal Affairs assisted in the drug testing of 322 employees and conducted 354 background checks.

Quality Assurance

The Quality Assurance Section was under the command of Lieutenant Jeraul Pladera for the entire year.

The Quality Assurance Section is an organizational component of the Office of the Chief of Police. Quality Assurance was created in 1995 to provide service to the Department as a whole by participating in staff inspections to measure the quality of performances and monitoring the level of compliance with standards for law enforcement agencies established by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA).

Jeraul Pladera

During the year, the Quality Assurance Section conducted 7 staff inspections of all Uniformed Services Bureau's districts and sections; 6 unannounced District evidence/property inspections and 6 announced district evidence/property inspections. File maintenance is an ongoing process with participation from the many different components within the Maui Police Department. In 2014 the Maui Police Department will apply for its 6th re-accreditation.

Uniformed Services Bureau

Victor Ramos

Assistant Chief of Police Victor Ramos was in command of the Uniformed Services Bureau for the entire year.

The Uniformed Services Bureau consists of all uniformed patrol services in District I (Wailuku), District II (Lanai), District III (Hana), District IV (Lahaina), District V (Molokai), District VI (Kihei), Traffic Section, and the Crime Reduction Unit.

The six patrol districts are responsible for providing services for the preservation of the public peace, prevention of crime, and protection of life and property. The Traffic Section provides services in the enforcement of laws and ordinances pertaining to vehicular and pedestrian traffic on public highways. The Crime Reduction Unit is a plain clothes investigative unit that provides county-wide assistance with fugitive apprehensions, case follow-ups, and self-initiated investigations.

DISTRICT I, WAILUKU

Clarence Kenui

Captain Clarence Kenui was in command of the Wailuku Patrol District for the entire year.

Sergeant Lawrence Pagaduan supervised the School Resource Officer (S.R.O.) Program for the entire year. The S.R.O. Program is a specialized unit of the Uniformed Services Bureau and has a partnership with the Department of Education which networks with various other government agencies and non-profit organizations to act as a liaison between the involved schools and the Maui Police Department. The School Resource Officers have been integral to prevention and intervention efforts at their respective campuses by providing instruction to students and high school officials as part of anti-crime, anti-drug and anti-violence programs. They have worked hard to develop proactive strategies to address criminal activity both on and within peripheral areas of their campuses.

Sergeant Mark Vickers supervised the Community Oriented Policing (COP) Program, the Alternative Call Servicing (ACS) Unit, and the Highway Incident Traffic Team (HITT) for the entire year. The Alternative Call Servicing Unit was implemented to handle minor non-emergency cases over the telephone where there is no immediate threat to anyone and no evidence at the scene. The ACS Unit handled 1,600 cases in 2012. The HITT Unit is utilized for major incidents that have occurred on our highways that affect the motoring public for extended periods of time. The majority of their responses have been to fatal and near-fatal traffic accidents. In 2012, the HITT Unit responded to 63 call-outs.

The purpose of the Community Oriented Policing (COP) Program is to have police officers and private citizens working together in creative ways to solve contemporary community problems related to crime, fear of crime, social and physical disorder, and neighborhood decay.
